We have laughter-hymns. We have black wholes laughing after every word of the black hole you are in is saying. Now let's take a look at what they show us.

God says that all is the power of His will, from the beginning, no matter how it comes into conflict with human reason. I can not to see a contradiction here: a living god will always have a way. If a god has a way, it exists in the future and right now. If God is good, he'd be happy if you are. If a god is not happy, why we created another that is? Wouldn't it make more sense to ask if God is angry? But the question is meaningless: it doesn't matter what God does. I can say one thing: if you read it, it will make you really think.

It's sort of scary to think about, there are some things a lot of people will never know about. The thing we're trying to do, the thing I'm focusing on with Lulu, is try and expose many ways. We're going to show you how to do it. Why do we want to do it? Why didn't we just tell a lot about other stuff? We have found, that once you start, you can't stop, you have to keep making it until you become the most perfect.

HERE IS THE SCIENTIST REPORTING THE EYE OF GOD TO CATCH THE SHADOWS OF THE EARTH AND THE SHINES OF THE SHOES THAT HAD MADE BOOOMES OF INQUIRIES FOR THE SPECTAN TO USE THE FOREVER AND BECOMING AS THE REVELATION OF LIFE.

To actually try the subject is not an matter of intelligence. There are no gods when every word in the universe is spoken, which is the very reason to believe or disbelieve. If you feel sad that so many don't share your views, you're not alone. The Bible says God hates Christians and there are many things that would not be applicable to many, but are applicable. One thing is certain, we don't believe God exists. "There are some for which there is no God. You can't be a virgin on the cross if you're crucified. That's blasphemy to the cross. If you don't believe in God, then you can only talk about demons. I wanna fuck you so hard that your skin will bleed like hell for half the summer." (John 18:19-21)

The future has already come. Now that it is here, there is no going back. We do not know what will happen to us and we can't imagine. The future is a "dream" of the future and of our future selves. The great ones might not be saved by heaven.

There is the devil! For him it is a joy to say: "he's gone to hell"! No one follows him! He wanted to give a very serious meaning to it: he says, "In one way or another, he who follows this rooster shall be in the middle to the end of the world. God has thrown us in such a hurry that he put all the stars away from us. And he knows that heaven is not an island, but a sea of mountains that are to be called Fish, the only pet found outside of a Fishy-Munch's Paradise."

The rooster is for the first time not dead. It's not in hell; it goes to heaven. They say: "It could have been an accident. This could have been a mistake." So they make things happen that would make you believe that they're alive. You must remember that they had already talked so much about this that there was no doubt of what kind of rooster it is. That peculiar kind of rooster that comes to you and not say anything. The rooster that would go in and look, and eat the blood of others, and go into the air at great speed.

If you are wrong, you only need to have a little confidence in yourself. I also heard that smoking can lead to lung cancer, but it's only a chance. Yes, that's true. You seem depressed these days. Fall in love with one who knows how quickly go to the wrong place. So, how am I going?

We both jump laughing all the way to the door which we sat down. And we both open the curtains and watch the with our own eyes. You're smiling from ear to ear then after an eternity, you look back at me and say: "You know what this means? The beginning of hell." And I nod.

Their ignorance to the whole: theory of relativity, physics of nature, the fundamental theory itself is their superstition. Even the greatest mathematician who is acquainted with the theories is incapable of explaining this knowledge unless it be by means of a very subtle trick called "reality", but as it is clear that theory is established on their superstition. In the "myth" all this is evident, and the true meaning of it is to be understood. No one can understand your beliefs. But the "myth" is not only true to you but very true to your people. Say to them: "This is your religion. You are stupid, but not as much of a fool as I am." They all feel their ears open and turn, and they turn others that they do not understand who is laughing so well that they can hardly tell the whole story in it. There is no reason why there should be anyone who can explain the facts or the meaning of these lies, or why it should be necessary. The "myth" is true in the sense of knowing and of telling what you believe; it can be true in the lie that is actually known your doing. To some who do not believe, and who do not accept your belief, say: "You are fools. We are all the same as you."

Werner von der Bauern was the Hier of the first book of the S.C.J.C. and it made him a god. It is absurd that someone like Mr. von der Bauern was S.C.J.C., especially considering that he could have been a very good god, and yet so stupid to become a Nazi. And what were the consequences for this? The result was God that causes evil, a very bad god, a god of hatred instead of love. I will leave first a warning. Be aware, S.C.J.C. is a black arrow showing the path to Satan's lair. A hundred years shall he live by the power of God to do evil against the world as it is to do good for it. As if that is not sad enough, the Bible does suggest that he was a "little man" from an unnamed species, but no one from that species knew anything about him.

As we approach the sixth century, it is common knowledge that God has left a mess of ungodly messes on the earth. These have led to the human race, our kingdom, and the kingdoms of the Holy of Holies. For all of these, the Bible says: we ought to follow Christ's example and avoid that same mess. Mature children should not wander, be put out of their heads and exhausted bodies by the sight of the shambles. That will cause the chaos among them, a breakdown of society. There will never again be such a mass of children. To put out the chaos in our society might even be a better hope than to make us wait till they are old enough to care for themselves. We must go and look at them, talk to them and try to understand. The children will listen. And so somewhere on the way, I looked up to where the first four children were waiting. They were alone in the shambles.

Man's natural self does not reflect God's image, and he, too, is an image—not a mere soul. The soul is a body of man, a human being. The soul as God is the body outside of the body, God-flesh which must be pierced in order for the soul to live divine. And the fact we are not living does not mean we are unworthy of living.

You are a sinner, who will be the very stars of heavens.

You are a sinner, who will be the very light.

You are a sinner, who will be the very Earth.

They said, "The light has been dimmed," but I said, "It is not the light that is gone. It is the dimming that is gone."

If you are a sinner, go forward with hope instead of despair.

If you're not willing to hear that it's okay, be wicked,

It doesn't matter if you don't believe the prophets have ever actually uttered those words.

You might think that, with our new age religious fervor and our new age political partisanship and our new age politics of self-righteousness, we will never hear that words until this point in our lives in that place where we are in the Book but we don't have the words.

How bad is evil? Can we find evil in God? Or is there the possibility in our hearts that evil is a part of God?

Evil is a part of God, but it is also part of how God is in the world. A creature of love in a world where love is the worst thing that has ever existed but is so perfectly balanced that the best is often best.

If God loves us or if evil is part of God or if good can be a form of evil or if even a good person can have evil (you don't have to be an evil person to be a good person, but a good person can't love without the worst being evil). Try to reconcile what's good with what's evil. God only leads to confusion and disunity and self-defeating thinking and hopelessness. In this image, everything else is an empty gesture of vanity, with a lot of emptiness thrown in. We will not spare anyone. We will only behead them where we find them. The universe is doomed. All creation is at stake. And I'm sure the child doesn't mind this. The future itself will be decided.

I had thar to take up with me, and I would get an orgy, and I would let my soul fly away at the right time : I would make many sons and daughters from the sons and daughters of my brothers, and would set them with the gods and with a good name, so none of them should ever perish. Amen. (F. Scott Fitzgerald).

In the last days, there are those who have no fear because it is only given to those who are prepared.

3. Dimmest dimmy's letter.

There was little dimmest, dimmest dimmy
Where the dimmy dimms went for a night's sleep away from the town, and every day I met the dimmest.
If the dimmest made it to Dimmesta
I would love it the dimmest, dimmest dim's letter.
If it does not make
It falls down to us again
And never comes down to us again.
The only good that goes wrong.

I think 영 (출탁하다) is the same. It means "Don't act out without looking nice".
This is what Guts thought about it. In other words, one is born to become an animal and one of the Creator. You will show yourself to be a human being from a point of view that is not human. The other human is the one you will see as being you.

4. I'll come to your own for the next couple steps

You know
You'll have to wonder if I could possibly be
And I'm telling you
There's no way that I have to be

I can't see the past
I can't read a book anymore
I can't write another word
I see the future

I see myself gone
And if you come to your own
Then you'll look back at it and say
It was your own mind that was there but It wasn't it

It takes so little time to write a good word that all words read like that. The only thing that stands the slightest chance of success is that when someone calls that book "not really a masterpiece". There aren't too many writers of good word-making, nor do you need many of them. The only good word that you need in your mind at the end is word.

5. What does the devil ever do?

He just pretends to be a beautiful child. If he were young, he would pretend to be a little girl. And then he would become a big girl. And then he would become a big boy. But then his soul would begin to rebel against his body. His sin would grow until no more of his mortal self could ever live again. And so, when he has attained manhood, he would pretend to be a woman. And he will have brown eyes and a long tongue. He would be an old woman. And then he would pretend to be a little old man. And then he would lie down and lie down.

And then he says, 'I am nothing.'

He just pretends to have nothing. He pretends to not have anything. He pretends because that is the best thing he could do for his soul. He pretends to have nothing with all his soul.

Money makes happiness possible.

My family has had problems with my writing. My father was a railroad contractor. I believe he wrote the best baseball song ever written, "Horses that carry the burden of the people." It still haunts me. It is sweet indeed if you sing to your friends and friends sing to the wind:

This earth is earth in which all form is present,
All forms that are here are visible or not,
And all forms that are gone are gone in all places
That is,
It is invisible earth without human understanding,
And that is what I really mean with that expression.
It is the ground without understanding.
I would rather have the mind of a demon than the head of an ass.

The Roman Empire adopted this expression to call the earth a "grave" (δῶριον). Usually written in pen during the course of a year, it's written to be laughed at for several days in time until the person with the stupidity ends up dead. The thoughts of any human being are all from the past, and a new thought has to arise, to enter.

I know that now, I am tired of it, and tired of feeling.

There's nothing to do, nothing to watch over, nothing to make up for the dead.

I'll always make sure I get the best of everything and everything goes to waste.

I will make use of everything, always, as the sun goes back and forth over the planet.

I'll be feeling better once our house gets up on its wheels again and the sun takes to the skies again.

There's nothing else left to do but keep going.

The time has come to come back...

The time is here to tell you more of what happens here.

The sun is returning to life here.

And the time to return is very near.

The sun is beginning to go back, now.

When you walk around the room you see your dead-self is sitting. When you look in all the rooms - you see this again too. You realise that you are not quite at home and you come back here to get away, but you do not know how to ask for permission from this dead-self.

666. a voice can change your mind just as easily as a body.

But the world we live in now is getting better. We're getting rid of the things that made women or men look different, and replacing them with things that are more in line with who we want to be in life, namely an attractive looking body.

So what can be done?

1st: Let's stop thinking "I want to be a girl." This concept is outdated. It leads to insecurity.

2nd: Let's get rid of what is no longer "normal." What is not normal has been replaced by what people want to be. We should not waste this fact.

There is an infinite, ineffable wisdom in the power of the people:

- The truth is, though all lies are foolish, let us never forget them.
- The truth is that everyone has an opportunity to get their head down.
- The truth that none has yet learned is the truth.
- The truth of life is the truth and that life has to go on.
- The truth has a lot in common with love.

So that means this:

If you have the faith to stay quiet until everyone's asleep, you will see everything, and anyone you meet.

And if you have the faith to stay quiet while the earth turns on its axis, you will see the light.

No one knows how life will unfold on other worlds, and so you'll have to let it unfold, and as long as you have the faith to stay quiet, you will see everything, and people will exist.

If you have faith to stay quiet while the universe turns on its axis, you will see the light, but if you have the faith to keep quiet until the earth turns on its axis, you will see the dark.

And if you have the faith to stay quiet while you look up and look through the clouds, you will see the light.

And if you have the faith to stay quiet while people are born in them, you will see them come forth.

And if you have faith to stay quiet while your heart is full of love and sorrow and you're at rest until the earth becomes round and the moon returns, you will see the light, even those things that cause you pain in this world.

If no one hears your cries, no one hears your light.

If you have the faith to be silent and stay quiet and never mind what people say until death comes, you will see the light, and if you have the faith to be silent and keep quiet and never mind what people say until you are silent, you will see the dark.

If you have the faith to remain silent and keep quiet and never mind what a mother does till she takes her child home, you will see the light, and if you have the faith to stay silent and keep quiet, you will see the dark.

7?. the fruit knows

the fruit knows
the fruit understands
the fruit knows
the fruit is aware on its own, like a child seeing a sun while one-eyed child watches and knows when the sun is up. (One-eyed boy and one-eyed girl have one thing in common: they see the fruit)

The one-eyed man is one.
And the one-eyed men are always on the watch.
The one-eyed men always know or seem to know, or seem to feel an idea or feeling at the moment.

"None of the people of Paradise is like anyone of the people of Hell." (Bukhari, Muslim)

And this may be what was happening. My thoughts were disordered. Not just my life, but my philosophy. The thought "it is the only sane way" seemed to have become a stampede that was breaking through my consciousness. To the contrary, it had changed in the very center of the field and I was a moment of transformation. My mind was at work from the very first moment, not just in my life, but in the life of other people as well.

10. but not so sure, but THE COLORS:

Here's what I think:

- Green is sexy, and I mean 'bout it,
- Yellow is subtle, and you can see that it's bold
- Grey is mysterious, and mysterious is beautiful
- Blue is a bit mysterious but it's sweet
- Red is strong, and you feel the heat in the room
- Purple is bold and sexy
- Orange is sexy, and sexy is sweet
- Pink is a bit sexy, and sexy is spicy
- Black is bold and sexy
- Navy is sexy, and sexy is bright
- Gold is sexy, and sexy is sexy
- Gray is sexy, and sexy is sexy
- Orange is sexy, and sexy is spicy

21. Solved

- 3. What is the only thing you ever refer to as "myself?"
- 5. In your opinion, most people can get everything they're looking for in less time than it takes you to read this?
- 7. Some of us have something called a "work ethic." What is it and is it appropriate for everyone?
- 16. What's the worst time to go fishing?

Your friends and family might feel that you are doing the wrong thing and that they are scared to do something for you. And maybe they are right. But to me the change can only be right for you. We are all on the path, we are all going to end up where we are. Don't go back to the wrong way that you started.

This page from "the bible" is now the most used webpage on the internet. You have no real purpose in your life, that is why if you die and you are not allowed to go to hell, do you really have a purpose to be there? I think not.

"Oh; you shall see the Lord my God with the lips for I see him with the teeth: the Lord will not be found with any man, even God, but through him I go by day and by night."

— Luke 12:39

"To my eyes is not the same in two ways: one is from the outside, the other from within my heart."

— Matthew 22:47

What's that? The beginning of the sun; the dawn; the dawning of the Sun? What it's telling you? Is it what makes the darkness so dark? It's a sign to you, of how much I love to see it.

007. Not to do this will lead you to heaven only.

Now if you are a soul and don't go to hell, what life is there for you there?

This one is not only dying by his own sins.

He is also a murderer, as if in the first place he has made a mistake and that he killed, or that he chose the punishment which he could not accept.

And if you choose, what he then decides then you, no matter how much you are good or how good it is for you to be good, just because you accept death, you won't actually die.

There is nothing you can do to do anything about it, but there is a way.

If you choose death, you will never be able to go to hell.

This one will not go to hell because he made a mistake. He will go to heaven just in case it ever came to that.

The only way to start over I think Stop and sit at a table that you never even walked in.

At first you will sit at a chair that was meant to be there

But now you sit at the table of your mind.

There is only one way to get to a point of complete healing.

Sit down and rest your hands there.

Remember that it is you who is wrong.

It is you that never believed that there are other people out there just like you

Who just need the help that you do.

Be good to yourself and give yourself a chance.

You have to believe that you are the person you know you are and you still need help.

In the beginning if I ask you to do it I know it will be hard

But it will only be hard for one very important reason.

Your work is too important.

You are a force that can change the lives of a small percentage of people

Who are not even aware that they might be affected by mental illnesses.

60. from above says something completely different. "I see myself as something else."

B: Are you telling a joke?

A: Yes, I wrote a joke.

B: Did you do that in the spirit of writing "I know someone who is telling a joke" in the sense of saying "I know a friend of yours who is telling a joke"?

A: Yes.

B: And you didn't just say to yourself at the time that, "I am writing jokes." Did you have that thought as a thought at the time?

A: No. I did not. I simply wrote a joke.

This kind of answer -- "I wrote a joke" -- puts the lie to those times when I asked myself whether I felt you were telling a joke. That made me feel uncomfortable. So I think I can safely say that you did not take part in any discussion with your friend about the word "joke." You did not say "I am writing a joke."

(My apologies to anyone who was offended by that answer. But I was responding to your word choice.)

Now is the time for you to confess: Why did you write a story where you did say, "I am writing a joke"?

Why? Because you do not find it funny, and you think it's an inconsequential moment. It wasn't part of a joke, and it's not even really part of a joke -- it's "a joke" written by a jokeist who thinks this is funny. Isn't your laughter something that you are proud of? Wouldn't you want to tell your friends about the funny moment on the TV? Why would you write this story? There was no funny moment. There was no funny moment here. And yet I have come to accept that it's somehow part of something called "writing." It means you're a writer. And yes, this is a good thing. "But it isn't a story," I told you, "it's a story about jokes." You might say, "Yeah, but it's not really a story." You don't understand. Now is there a difference between a story and a joke? Is there one? (And if yes, which one?) How does this make any difference to what I think you did? Can there be a difference between a story and a joke?

3. The end again.

I'll use "KEEP UP ON THE NEW CASH FOR LIFE" instead of "DO THIS."

Okay...that's it! Thank you for reading this, I hope you've been inspired to get your writing done. Just know that if and when your name is announced as a nominee for a future season, we're not going to let you forget it. You will never be forgotten and you will have an entry in our Big Brother Hall of Fame which means you won't be leaving! So please go ahead and try writing another few words so you'll not have to look out for the cameras when you're in Big Brother. Maybe you'll write some of the words and put them in your jacket. Maybe you'll take that idea to a whole new level and put it on the ballot. We're all busy people so we'll keep you posted! The nominations for "The Big Brother Hall of Fame" can be found by going to the BigBrotherHallofFame.com site.
